PRESENTATION OF THE SUMMIT

The Normandy International Youth Leadership Summit was created nearly 10 years ago thanks to the initiative of young students thrilled by a strong desire to get committed into the evolution of the society they live in.

Information and technological progress constantly surround our today's generation. This is why this little group of students decided to take tomorrow's challenges into account so that they could contribute to contemplating and making our future a better place. The NIYLS doesn't only aim at limiting its field of action in dialogues, but at collecting ideas in order to give food for thought.

As a consequence, further concrete projects will come to light and will enable to tackle the 21st century's challenges. Among these projects are environmental issues, education, politics, trade, culture, sciences and many other themes these students have decided to be confronted with so as to adapt them to our generation. This way, the NIYLS has grown larger thanks to the dynamism and the motivation of its team, as these projects are now being shared all around the world. In fact, the aim of the NIYLS is to welcome students from every country to go beyond differences and unite everyone in the same burst of enthusiasm. And it was a truly successful experience: Brazil, South Africa, Netherlands, Great Britain, Sicily, Italy, the United States and Germany united and took part in the adventure. These students then felt like extending this adventure and decided to gather regularly to develop new perspectives based on a common interest.

So, the very 1st edition of the summit was organized in September 2014 in order to meet as many students as possible so as to share ideas and projects following dialogues and conferences held at the L.H forum. The delegates' schedule was organised in three different perspectives: discussions in groups, conferences and activities, which was a good alternative between work and rest in order to preserve a convivial and positive atmosphere.

The 10th edition of the NIYLS

During the first edition of the summit, students discussed together about major themes such as environment, politics and education, but also to share everyone's culture in several activities which enabled them to draw awareness as regards all the treasures they really have to preserve. This first edition of the NIYLS was a complete success and it is with great enthusiasm that many other students will be meeting again the following years.

All year round, the founders of the NIYLS have had the opportunity to introduce their project with new students and to convey their passion for the summit, as well as their ideas and aims for the forthcoming years. Future really is a major challenge for these young leaders.

This tenth edition will be a real chance for the young leaders from 22 delegations as they will actively contribute to tomorrow's challenges, but they will also have the opportunity to represent their culture and learn about others. Even though the students will be together most of the time, the summit is also a unique experience for each of us thanks to the transmission of positive values. More than a chance, it is a real opportunity for these young leaders to be united and act together. Let's become planetizen together!

The NIYLS Team

INSTITUTION SAINT JOSEPH

“We strive to provide a welcoming atmosphere for all students, where they will find the programme of study that is just right for them. Our programmes ensure that students are treated as individuals and are supported throughout their schooling by our clearly identified lead teachers. The result is an ongoing relationship between students, families and teachers”.

Education is a team effort. First, there is our team of motivated teachers and educators who share common goals and work within a flexible educational framework. There are bridges between programmes at several moments during a child’s schooling; these help keep us from permanently misdirecting students who are unsure of or dissatisfied with their course of study.

With our well-rounded education including academics, sport, art and culture at all year levels, our students are enriched in both body and mind. We have designed St Jo to be a living school where students, teachers, educators and parents all feel comfortable and accomplish their work under the best conditions. This is another reason we have particularly focused on developing unique educational features, such as our competence groups several subjects, modern languages in particular. We also offer specialised classes, such as enhanced language classes and partial immersion, attesting to our openness to other cultures, near and far. Our foreign language programmes are highly varied.

With these unique features, we have set up partnerships with neighbouring, complementary schools, but also with schools in other countries, with which we form a solid network.

Lastly, our chaplaincy is attentive to pastoral training, initiatives and practices. Institution Saint Joseph aims to be a welcoming, dynamic school for the good of all students, who are our absolute priority and must always be at the centre of the educational approach.

POWOW: POSITIVE WORLD WORKERS

Positive World Workers (POWOW) is an assembly of engaged students who carry out projects in order to make the world around them a better place. Directed by Mrs. Clément, and with the participation of committed students from Saint Joseph, in Le Havre, we come up with ideas and undertake actions at our own level to help improve our society and preserve our planet for future generations.

One aspect of POWOW is that we focus on themes such as ecology. For example we aim to raise awareness about recycling to students within the school, starting with the youngest, in order to have a positive influence on their attitude as a consumer later on. This year we carried out small events in Le Havre with other associations to take action against urban pollution. Moreover, in the context of the International Day at Saint Joseph, we met with students and showed them exhibits and presentations on sea pollution. We also discussed how we could diminish our impact on the environment.

POWOW also takes part in social actions with the ambition to reduce inequalities in our society.

Additionally, one of our goals is to reduce bullying. To do so one of the things we do is going into classes to talk and raise awareness to resolve this problem.

The image shows a YouTube video player interface. At the top left is the 'OneHome' channel logo. The video title is 'OneHome feat. François Taddei (4k)'. In the top right corner, there is a 'Share' button with a right-pointing arrow. The main video area features a portrait of François Taddei, a man with a beard and a slight smile, wearing a dark suit jacket over a light-colored shirt. Behind him is a large, high-resolution image of the Earth from space, showing the Americas. A large red play button icon is centered over the video. Below the video, the title 'OneHome' is written in a large, bold, white sans-serif font. Underneath that, it says 'feat. François Taddei' and 'Evolutionary Biologist & Planetizen' in a smaller white font. Further down, it reads 'NASA Earth pictures from one million miles away'. At the bottom left, there is a 'Watch on' button with the YouTube logo and the word 'YouTube'. At the bottom right, there is a circular icon with a play button inside.
